The beauty of being Wright

The 1987-1988 academic year marks the 103rd anniversary of Florida Southern College and the college's 65th year in Lakeland. The sun-washed campus is certainly reflective of its Central Florida location, but perhaps the most outstanding feature of Southern is the world's largest collection of Frank Lloyd Wright architecture which is contained on its campus.

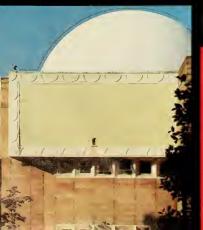

In 1936, then FSC president Ludd M. Spivey traveled to Talies-in East in Wisconsin to ask Wright to turn an orange grove on the north share of Lake Hollingsworth into an innovative and modern college campus.

Spivey said, "I have no money with which to build this modern American campus, but if you'll design the buildings, I'll work night and day to raise the means."

After Wright visited the site of his future/works in Lakeland, he accepted the commission to begin to lay out a master plan for an entire campus and thus began an almost a quarter of a century relationship with the college until Wright's death in April of 1959.

Wright had envisioned creative jewels rising "out of the ground, into the light and into the sun." His works still stand as symbols of non-conformity and personal creativity and are as individual as the students he had hoped would always attend and give life to Florida Southern College.

Celebrating a golden year

In Founders' Week of 1988, the college celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Hindu Temple and Garden of Meditation at Florida Southern.

The beauty of the Hindu temple and garden is often overlooked by those who focus on the architectural genius of Frank Lloyd Wright, yet the garden endures in silence.

The temple, a replica of one found in a typical Indian village, weighs nearly 10 tons and is 25 feet high. It was a gift to the college by Bishop Fredrick B. Fisher, a missionary to India in the early 1900's. Fisher felt that Florida Southern would be the perfect resting place for a temple that symbolized a rebirth and a development of knowledge.

Countless friendships have grown and romances have blossomed in the garden over the years, it is a haven for those in need of a quiet place to collect their thoughts and a shelter of privacy for a moconlight talk between couples. So few places on campus can offer this much to students each day and still shine so brightly throughout the years.

Education comes first

The classrooms are necessary for study and the campus has many outstanding architectural features, but it is the students who give life and breath to Florida Southern.

Coming from over 38 states and 16 countries, students come to Southern for many reasons, with the primary being to further their education.

Learning takes place in the classroom, the laboratory or in the form of internships. Some students use their newly acquired skills to help them pay for their college education. Others use the time to learn, grow and prepare for the future.

The contribution of the fine arts

The performing arts are often viewed differently than other academic departments on campus and in fact, they are. The performances by the artists on stage cannot possibly reflect the countless hours that are put into both individual and group rehearsals.

The students involved in the performing arts frequently represent the college to the Lakeland community through the Festival of Fine Arts Series. This is an important

The performing arts are often function of the department that is yed differently than other aca- often overlooked.

The masterprices created by students in the art department are labors of love that the majority of the students at FSC never see.

The personal dedication of these students and faculty members to the arts and their ability to work together makes this group of students on campus very special and greatly appreciated.

During the years a students spends in college, he develops a sense of responsibility and individuality.

When coming to Florida Southern, many students see this as a time in their lives to start over, a time to make improvements in their lives, but most of all to prepare for the future.

Meeting new people, building life-long friendships, developing self-confidence ... these things are as important as what is tought in the classroom. No one will take a class in how to smile, be patient, cope with changes and pressure. Some things just come naturally through time.

Time out

Florida Southern students are the same as college students everywhere. They cherish their free time.

Southern students enjoy intramural sports in the weekday afternoons, basking in the sun on a warm day, helping out or spending time with friends and of course, weekend trips and parties.

Weekends and free time are in short supply so students have to make the most of what they have.

If grades were given in this area, almost every student would get an A.

1988 Miss Southern

On February 16,1988, Wendy Caren Meyer was crowned the 51st Miss Southern of Florida Southern College.

Meyer was one of 13 candidates nominated and selected by the students of the college. The candidates were nominated under the requirements that they have a 3.0 grade point average, have at least 92 credit hours and be active in three or more campus organizations.

During her years at FSC, Meyer was active in Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honors society and Omicron Delta Kapa, the leadership fraternity in which she served as vice-president. She was also a member of Phi Chi Theta and served as that organization's co-director of public relations.

Active in the department of music, Meyer was in Concert Band, Jazz Band, Chorale; a member of Delta Omicron and was a chapter sweetheart for Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. In 1985 she appeared in the All-Campus Musical Grease.

A frequent member of the Dean's List, Meyer was a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, a Pi Kappa Phi Little Sister and served as the SGA Junior Female Senator.

James C. Rogers Award - 1988

On February 8, 1988 the student body of Florida Southern College voted on who would be named the recipient of the 1988 James C. Rogers Award. Montez Dudley Williams was announced as the winner at the Founder's Week Coronation of Miss Southern on February 16, 1988.

Williams, a native of the Bahamas and a business major, has actively participated in many campus organizations throughout his years at FSC. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, the fraternity which recognizes leadership among both students and faculty. During his senior year he was the SGA Independent Male Senator, Sigma Fho Epsilon Secretary, a member of the Pre-Ministerial Students and a Phi Mu Sorority Big Brother.

Williams participated in many Vagabond productions and was a member of Alpha Psi Omega. He served as both president and vice-president of the International Students Associations.

In being named the recipient of the James C. Rogers Award, Williams and the other nominees had to qualify by having a minimum grade point average of 3.0, have at least 92 credit hours and show exemplary character and leadership in at least three areas of campus life.

1988 Honor Walk

The highest honor given to any student of Florida Southern College is to be named Honor Walk Student. This student is a person who has achieved excellence in academics, campus leadership, and community service. The 1988 Honor Walk student is Randi Burnette.

Burnette, an education major from Lakeland, was the recipient of numerous awards throughout her years at Florida Southern. She received the Freshman Honor Award, the Frank Chandler Outstanding Sophomore Award, and the Burnette/Gilbert Junior Award.

Burnette was also a Junior Advisor, a J.A. Chairman, a Judicial Board Alternate, a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Omicron Delta Kappa of which she was the president, vice-president and secretary over a number of years.

She was active in Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, was a Sigma Chi Little Sister, a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Order of Omega and was nominated to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The accomplishments and contributions of Randi Burnette to Florida Southern can in no way be completely listed in this book. She in every way represents the best in what each and every college student seeks. Florida Southern College is very proud to name Randi Lee Burnette the 1988 Honor Walk Student.

Miss Greek 1987

Patricia F. Heath

Patricia F. Heath was crowned Miss Greek 1987 on November 19, 1987 Heath was a senior communications major minoring in music with her concentration in vocal pedigy.

She was the fourth Alpha Delta Pi nominee in a row to win the honor of Miss Greek, a contest held annally by Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

While at Florida Southern College, Heath was active in Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, the Advertising Club, FPRA and was the senior Panhellenic Delegate. During her senior year she had an internship at the college as assistant director of greek affairs.

Post-graduate plans for Heath include the pursuit of a career in corporate public relations within the state of Florida.

Founders' Week Guest

Willard Scott, popular television weatherman and spokesperson for the Florida Citrus Commission, was a special guest at the Founders' Day celebrations in honor of 1988 Honorary Chancelor Jack M. Berry of Winter Haven.

Scott has been a spokesperson for the Florida Citrus Growers promoting fresh grapefruit and oranges since 1986. He has appeared in merchandising and advertising in newspapers, magazines, on radio and television selling Florida citrus.

Scott is best known for his reporting the weather for NBC News' "Today" program in which he created "Willard's Weather." Scott is a 1955 graduate of American University in Washington, D.C. with degrees in philosophy and religion. With his wife Mary, he has two daughters, Mary and Sally.

The colorful television personality has earned significant recognition for his interest in public service and spirit. A commendation given Scott from President Ronald Reagan cited Scott for "private sector initiative, outstanding service to the community and inspiring volunteerism."

Scott is the author of two books. "America is My Neighborhood" and "The Joy of Living."

Honorary Chancelor

Jack M Berry, a leading figure in the citrus industry and a valued contributer to the Citrus Institue of Florida Southern College, was named 1988 Honorary Chancelor during Founders' Day ceremonies, February 19, 1988.

The naming of an Honorary Chancelor at Florida Southern began in 1934 when FSC president Ludd M. Spivey began the tradition of celebrating Founders' Week. As the name inplies, the occasion is one during which the campus community pauses to reflect on the history of the college. Naming an individual Honorary Chancellor is the highest moment of the week-long schedule of events.

Berry is the largest single grove owner in the state of Florida. His other holdings include Berry Plastics, Berry Ranch in Sarasota County and corrugated specialty processing facilities. The contributions of Berry and his wife, Ruth, are well known and appreciated throughout the state.

Upon naming Berry as Florida Southern's 54th Honorary Chancelor, president Robert A. Davis said, "Mr. Berry is a worthy successor in a long line of distinguished Chancellors. We were very pleased to name him Honorary Chancelor for 1988."

"Rolling Stone" celebrated its 20th anniversary in 1987.

As the 1987-'88 academic year began at FSC, there were many issues which were the topic of discussion both within the college community and the world at large.

As a nation, we had spent the summer reading about the corrupt world of television evangelists as the PTL empire of Jim and Tammy Bakker fell and the Jessica Hahn/Bakker scandal was further revealed to the public. Sitting in front of our televisions we could watch the Iran-Contra Hearings as Oliver North won the hearts of the American public and President Ronald Reagan lost credibility in the eyes of Americans over his truthfulness and respect for congressional laws. A quote by Senator George Mitchell of Maine caught the essence of this conflict when he said, "We must never allow the end to justify the means, where the law is concerned, however important and noble an objective. And surely, democracy abroad is important and is noble. It cannot be achieved at the expense of the rule of law in our country."

There were also many topics of discussion on the campus of FSC. In the spring of 1987, the Student Govemment Association was able to have the school dress code changed and this fall students were now legally wearing shorts to classes. During the fall the SGA attempted to have the college visitation policy revised but failed to have the restrictions upon students

The faculty met in late summer to discuss many school issues. One such issue was the college's problem of high transfer rates as ten new faculty members joined FSC along with a large number of new staff members.

The fall college musical this year was "The Fantastiks" under the direction of new theatre department member Richard Levene.

providing Naval escorts to trade ships. Other nations joined the U.S. effort to protect the waterway while elsewhere the U.S. continued to involve itself in the peace talks in Central America. (On December 12, 1987, Congress approved a spending bill which gave $16 million in non-military aid to the Nicaraguan rebels.)

In December, the United States signed a treaty with the Soviet Union to eliminate intermediate range nuclear weapons and discussed future plans for elimination of all nuclear weapons.

At this same time, the student body at FSC was enraged over the demand of the administration for many of the male students to cut their hair.

During the spring semester preregistration, several male students were told that unless they agreed to return in January with shorter hair, they would not be allowed to register for classes. The Lakeland Ledger quoted sophomore David Sossin of San Jose. Costa Rica in an article over the incident as saying, "I asked Dean Moran if Jesus would be allowed to attend Florida Southern College with his long hair. First he said it was a silly guestion, but then Moran said, 'Yes, I quess we would.' Sossin then said, "So you've either got to be God or a short haired conformist to go to school here.'

Many students laughed in disgust at the Ledger quoting Dean of Students Hugh A. Moran as saying, "We try not to make this (FSC) a restrictive place." Several students did not retum to FSC in the spring of 1988 over this matter.

A day in the life of a Southern girl.

"Beep, beep, beep, beep . . . "

The alarm clock rang and as she hit the snooze button and peered at the bright red light - 6:45 a.m.. She turned over knowing that in ten minutes the hideous sound would reoccur.

Sure enough, 6:55 a.m., "beep, beep, beep . . . ," time to get up.

As she stumbled to the bathroom, a chill ran up her spine as thoughts of her nice warm bed came to mind. But she drudged along and turned on the water, testing it with her hand for just the right temperature. She quickly undressed and jumped into the shower, slowly prying her eyes open.

As she dried off, she contemplated what to wear. She looked through her wardrobe, threw on some clothes, blowed dry her hair, brushed her teeth, put on cologne and headed towards the door, realizing she had not only forgotten to grab her books and keys, but also her I.D. (you couldn't go to the "caf" without it!).

As she walked into the cafeteria, she noticed that she only had 20 minutes to grab some food and run... to the other side of the campus! A few minutes later breakfast was done and she was walking to the conveyer belt only to end up in a traffic jam. With only five minutes until class was to begin, she was off.

"Please let the professor be late" she said to herself. But as usual.

he was on time and she was not. She knew that this was just the beginning of a typical day.

After making it through the morning it was time to head back over to the cafeteria, but not before checking the almost always empty mailbox. During lunch she would plan the afternoon's events. Perhaps she would watch a little television, go to an intramural game or maybe even study. At night she might go to a movie, attend a function or just sit in the dorm and talk with a friend.

That evening when she returned to school from one of the local night spots, she did some last minute homework before turning out the lights. As she set her clock for the following morning, she passed the 6:45 mark and stopped at 6:55. While promising herself not to hit the snooze button in the morning, she laughed as she recalled that same promise she had made the night before ... when she passed the 6:35!

Students and parents fight college costs.

Ah yes, these college years full of good times, good friends, early morning classes, cafeteria food, late nights, exams, cries of joy and tears of frustration.

It's the best time of a student's life. Besides deciding what to wear, finding a date from time to time, and making the grades, college students should not have a worry in the world

However, this time in a sudent's life does not come cheap. It costs, and this cost worries parents and students alike.

FSC's average cost of tuition in 1987 was $4,400 per year. When the tuition was added to the meals and room and board fee, it was pushing $8000 per year, not to mention books and supplies which could easily add up to $200 or more.

Most students do not consider $8000 mere pocket change. Sometimes paying for college can be a greater accomplishment than graduating.

Students who do not receive enough financial aid and or grants or scholarships must resort to the dreaded Guaranteed Student Loan, or perhaps participate in the work study program to cover costs.

Each student has his or her own way of paying for college. Some struggle with the high price for education, while others enjoy their college career and continue spending money without blinking an eye.

Since college costs continue to rise and more and more students along with their families struggle to meet the expense of higher education, college is becoming an investment.

Dina Wyss pays off her tuition by working in the PR office.

For some students, college costs are now an obstacle to gaining a diploma. Sometimes students and parents alike wonder about the college years and just how long they can afford them.

What do the terms social life and FSC have in common? Not much, according to some FSC students. But that statement is not completely fair. Many opportunities for a well-rounded social life are open to students who will take advantage of all available options.

On campus, many activities are offered by the SUB, which sponsors such events as concerts, dances, study breaks, and movies.

A major part of social life, on and off campus, is the college greek system. Fraternities and sororities provide activities for members and nonmembers alike. Intramural games, parties, and even greek tables in the caf provide an outlet for social gatherings.

When campus life becomes too much to handle, students head for one of the local establishments or spend a night on the town in Tampa or Orlando.

Many students make a big deal about the rules and regulations of the college that seem confining and without regard for personal rights. But what students seem to ignore is all the freedoms that they do have. "I am 21 years old," said junior Lisa Cunningham. "I pay my own bills and as far as college records are concemed, I am my own parent. I can do anything I wish outside the college and I feel that I am mature enough to handle that responsibility."

As for dating at FSC ... couples don't really have the problems that rumors suggest. Security guards do not lurk in the bushes waiting to catch unsuspecting couples. Sophomore Ronda LeaHue said of her and her boyfriend John Wieber, "Sometimes we just sit and talk. I guess it's not important what you do as long as you're together."

IFC and Panhellenic

The Panhellenic and Intrafraternal Councils are national organizations that exist on campus to improve relationships between Greeks and the greek system as a whole. Both councils consist of two representatives from each sorority and fratemity on campus.

Each organization sets the guidelines for fall and spring rush, and sees that these rules are carried out.

In the Fall, the Panhellinic Council sponsors an ice cream social and dessert and display for freshman and transfer women to become acquainted with the sororities. Similarly, IFC conducts a fall and spring walk-through for all men interested in fratemity life.

Christmas

'Twas the week before Christmas and all through the dorms, all the students were studying just before they went home.

Trees in the lobby, candy grams from a friend, question of the year, "How much should I spend?"

It's the thought, not the cost. The little things mean so much, like cookies, candies, and spirits and such.

So away to our finals we fly like a flash, our tests are so stressful they give us a rash.

Then what to my weary eyes should appear, but the Spanky's man saying, "Your pizza is here!"

It's just what I need, a little study break. I think to myself, "How much more can I take?"

But I spoke not a word and went straight to my work, I thought of my professor and called him a jerk.

Trends and popular fads were as evident at FSC as everywhere else. Clothes by Camp Beverly Hills, Swatch, Generra and even Banana Republic were worn by many, but the great American blue jeans were worn by all. It seemed that whether the label said Levi's, Guess or nothing at all, denim whould never go out of style!

In the world of music and entertainment, the fall of 1987 brought with it the twentieth anniversary of "Rolling Stone" magazine. The special fall edition of the publication included pictures and memories of its past two decades along with interviews with such entertainment greats as Paul McCarney, Mick Jagger, Joan Baez, Bruce Springsteen and many more. This issue was quite a collectors item for many.

In spite of an unusual cold spell that hit in early December, 1987, it did not keep many FSC students from traveling to Tampa Stadium to see "U2" and its very much talked about lead singer, Bono, in concert. Also performing in the area throughout the school year were David Bowie, Pink Floyd, Sting, Yes, The Miami Sound Machine, Rush, Jimmy Buffett and many more.

Michael Jackson's long awaited "Bad" album was released in early 1987 and quickly rose to the top of the charts. The film "Dirty Dancing" and its soundtrack had some influence on the way many FSC students were taking local dance floors and mimicking the slutry way of dancing the the movie brought back to life.

The end of 1987 marked the return of former Beatle, Goerge Harrison to the pop music scene with his hit, "Got My Mind Set On You." New to the charts were teenagers Debbie Gibson and Tiffany. Whitney Huston once again tasted success with her album "Whitney" as did George Michael with "Faith." Names that were also on the charts in 1987-88 were Whitesnake, Jody Whatley, Lisa Lisa and Cult Jam, Expose, Bon Jovi, Swing-Out Sister, Prince, John Cougar Mellancamp, INXS, and Def Leppard.

Number one at the box-office for 1987 was "Beverly Hills Cop II," which starred Eddie Murphy. The film grossed some $153 million and was followed by "Platoon" and "Fatal Attraction." "Three Men and a Baby," which was released in late 1987, hit the $60 million mark before the end of the year and continued to soar into 1988. Early '88 brought us "Broadcast News," and a movie that many FSC students felt was one of the best films they had seen in a long time, "Good Moming, Vietnam" starring Robin Williams.

The Minnesota Twins won the 1987 World series and the University of Miami Hurricanes were Number One in the nation for NCAA football.

The weather during the first few weeks of 1988 caused many northern students to wonder if they would be able to get to FSC on time as snow covered practically the entire nation. Closed airports and icy roads made travel difficult for students returning for the second semester of classes.

Overall it was a bad year for the stock market as trading was unstable and investors were constantly on the edge of panic. The presidential campaigns began to pick up and Gary Hart (as of January of 1988) was back in the race but on the bottom of the Democratic pack bidding for the office of president.

At FSC in early January, a 12-0 Men's Moc Basketball team became ranked Number One in the nation for NCAA Division II. The Mosc were going strong and it looked like 1988 would give them another successful season and perhaps once again a trip to Springfield.

Spring break in early March of 1988 found FSC students once again on the beaches of Daytona, Coco and Ft. Lauderdale. A few students went to Key West and some even went home to see family and friends.

Floridians and tourists alike began playing the Florida Lottery Game in January of '88. Some were delighted at the revenues it promised to bring to the state and other sighed in despair over their failure to block the legalized gambling in Florida.

The top news story of the year was AIDS. The dreaded disease and the deaths that it brought constantly appeared in both print and broadcast news headlines as Americans grew more fearful of the virus and launched campaigns to urge American to practice safe sex.

The location and condition of 1987 FSC Honorary Chancelor Terry Waite was still unknown in early 1988, but he was not forgotten on the campus of Florida Southern as many still prayed for his safe return.

The art, science and philosophy of Tae Kwon Do

During the 1987-88 Academic year, the health and physical education department offered Tae Kwon Do for the first time.

Tae Kwon Do satisfied the one hour skill course requirement while introducing students to the skills and philosophy associated with this most famous Korean martial art

Tae Kwon Do was taught by Grand Master S.T. Choe who mastered the art in his native country of Korea and brought his knowledge and expertise to Lakeland eight years ago. Grand Master Choe has devoted over 30 years of his life to Tae Kwon Do and is well-known throughout the world.

Tae Kwon Do is a form of the self-defense that incorporates the attitudes and philosophies of ancient oriental masters. Through the trained use of his hands, feet, mind and demeanor, S.T. Choe brings to life the art, science and philosophy of Tae Kwon Do. "Kwan Jang Nim (Grand Master Choe) brings new meaning to discipline through Tae Kwon Do," said FSC student John Short.

Through Tae Kwon Do, Florida Southern students were able to increase their self-confidence, self-control and self-esteem. Another Southern student, Kerry Wilt, said, "I have learned not only to respect myself, but also to respect others who show the initiative."

The course provided the setting for the development of patience, concentration, agility, flexibility and cardiovascular fitness. "Tae Kwon Do teaches you discipline and keeps you in shape," said Nancy Borzomoto.

The philosophical and psychological implications of Tae Kwon Do extend far beyond the gym and into the personal lifestyle of the practitioner. Student Brad Lamb summed it up best when he said, "Seeing is seeing, but feeling it the next day is believing it." by John R. Tripp

Health Fair

The Health Fair was held on Oct. 14, by the Wellness Committee to kick off a wellness program at FSC and promote good health among the students and faculty,

Participating in the fair were such organizations as the American Cancer Society, the Tampa Area Safety Council, and the Polk County Sheriff's Dept. Students were able to have their blood pressure, spine, and body fat checked, and also had the opportunity to donate blood.

Students line up for blood pressure checks.

SGA Works For Students

The Student Government Association began the 1987-88 year with more involvement and enthusiasm than seen in recent years. In the interest of the students, SGA expanded to form more committees such as a drug awareness program, the ride board, and the tutorial bank. SGA was also instrumental in the development of WMOC radio, and organized Club Fest 87.

The visitation policy or "residential freedom" continued to be a major issue for the SGA, with a proposal to alter the policy being made to the trustees of the college. Although the proposal was rejected, President James D'Loughy said that SGA will continue their attempts to negotiate residential freedom for the students.

SUB Plans Activities

This year the Student Union Board continued its tradition of providing campus activities with movies, study breaks, dance bands, and a hypnotist who performed during Founders Week just to name a few. Never apprehensive of trying new ideas, the SUB brought comedian Alex Cole to the FSC campus. The spring semester continued with tournaments in the game room and additional contracted acts. The Student Union Board co-sponsored Club Fest '87 in the fall and a greek dance during Greek Week.

Halloween

Halloween conjures up visions of witches, goblins, candy and fun for FSC students.

In preparation for the holiday, the Student Union Board presented "Young Frankenstein," Allan Spivey had an open house, and Tri Beta sponsored its annual Haunted Lab. The annual cafe costume contest was enjoyed by students, housemothers and employees alike. Best student costumes went to Church Lady Jim Huber and Bumblebee Susan Bashart, and Columbia housemother Eugenia Smith got into the spirit by dressing as a punk rocker.

On Halloween night, many students went trick or treating and then headed out to the numerous parties and haunted houses around Lakeland.

JAs and RAs Help Out

The Junior Advisors and Resident Advisors have the responsibility of introducing freshmen and transfer students to the college community of Florida Southern. They serve as a link between the students and administration to keep students informed of campus events and important information such as alcohol and drug awareness.

To be selected as a JA or RA, one must exemplify the qualities of understanding, leadership, responsibility and patience, while being required to maintain a 2.6

Derby Days at FSC

Sigma Chi's Derby Week is held each year to raise money for their philanthropy, the Wheelhouse, a Lakeland organization that helps the physically and mentally handicapped.

During this time sororities vie for points in competitions such as a door painting competition, a key hunt, derby gathering, and the Derby Games. The Alpha Omicron Pi sorority was declared overall winner after winning the door decorating contest, finding the key in Danforth Chapel, and winning the Derby Games.

Colleen Johnson of Alpha Chi Omega was named this year's Derby Queen during the Nov. 9-13 festivities which raised over $1000 for the Wheelhouse.

Intramurals

Men's and Women's intramurals have been an important part of campus life since 1936. The intramural program exists to provide non-varsity athletes with the opportunity to compete with students of other organizations. Each group has an elected representative who attends Intramural Council meetings and keeps his or her group informed of upcoming sporting events.

Volleyball, football, softball, basketball, soccer, cross country, archery, tennis, and golf are among the sports available for competition. Trophies are awarded for the winner of each sport and an all-sports award is given to the male and female team that has accumulated the most points.

AWS

The Association of Women Students helps to involve the women on campus in school and community activities. One of their many projects is a fund raiser for the Lakeland Speech and Hearing Clinic. This year, AWS sponsored a hair and make-up clinic and held its annual fashion show. Members are elected by the women living in the building which they represent and serve one year terms. Members are required to have a GPA of 2.0 and be a full-time student.

Circle K

Circle K is the world's largest collegiate service organization. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, it provides leadership development and meaningful service to the campus and community.

As well as helping the community's children, poor, and elderly, Circle K is active in the Save the Manatees campaign and participates in many campus service projects.

Greek Week A Success

In order to promote Greek unity, Greek Week was held Nov. 15-20, co-sponsored by Panhellinic, IFC, and SUB. Sororities and fraternities were paired up and competed during the week in daily events such as Greek sponsored chapel, pin attire day, a blood drive, Miss Greek, and the Greek Games for points.

The team of AOPi, Theta Chi, and Pi Kappa Phi were the overall winners for the week, winning every event in the Greek Games.

For the fourth year in a row, three ADPis were crowned as Miss Greek and semifinalists in the Lambda Chi Alpha sponsored pageant. Patti Heath was named this year's winner.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Omicron Delta Kappa is the nation's top collegiate honor society. The FLorida Southern Circle was established in 1951 and has been involved in campus activities ever since. The main purpose of ODK is to recognize outstanding leadership among students, faculty, and administration. The qualifications for membership into ODK are: a 3.00 cumulative GPA or above and 60 or more credit hours. Members are chosen according to active involvement and leadership in five areas: scholarship; athletics; social, service, religious and government activities; journalism, speech, and mass media; and creative and performing arts. This high honor is only awarded to the top 3% of achievers on campus.

Sports

SKI TEAM

Water Skiing at FSC may be considered by many to be a club sport because it does not compete in the NCAA, but the skiers train and work just as hard as any athlete on campus. Their training schedule, designed by professional skier and head coach Ken Janta, includes daily ski practices for four hours, weight lifting and running.

Going into the spring season, the team was ranked fourth in the state out of 11 competing teams. Leading the way for FSC were team captain Bill Cordes, John Bonderman and Craig Hrkal. Sherry Crawford and Esther Tomcykoski led the women on the team. The entire season consisted of four tournaments in the fall and four tournaments in the spring. Hoping for a national tournament bid in the year to come, Cordes spoke optimistically of the 1987-'88 season. "This was a rebuilding year for the team," he said.

Mike Rowsa, Mark Kingam and a host of other skiers take off from the dock.

Bill Cordes creates a wall of water as he slaloms over Lake Hollingsworth.

Her eyes are looking elsewhere, but Esther Tomcykowski 's mind is on skiing.

Reaching backwards is Donolly Tyrell, for this rebound.

Men's Basketball

A wealth of experience and young talent on the rise is what came together to form the 1987-88 FSC men's basketball team. Hours of hard work and practice is what has taken the Mocs to NCAA post-season play eight out of the last nine seasons, and once again, head coach George Scholz put his remedy for success up against his opponents from all three divisions.

All-American candidates, senior point guard Jerry Johnson and junior center Kris Kearney, provided much of the punch in the Moc's attack, but they were strongly aided by returning senior Michael Bradley and many talented underclassmen. Johnson became FSC's first preseason All-American candidate, as chosen in the September issue of

"Off the Glass" magazine.

During the 1987-88 season, the 1987 Sunshine Conference State Champs hosted teams from a variety of states. Their opponents traveled from twelve different states which included Maine, Michigan, Illinois, New York, and New Jersey. In the state of Florida, the Moc's did battle with Sunshine Conference opponents Saint Leo College, Eckerd College, Rollins College, the Florida Institute of Technology, and FSC's rival school the University of Tampa. The Moc schedule also included December WLKF Classic which brought Division 1 teams North Carolina at Charlotte and Howard University to Lakeland.

Van Mays puts an easy two points in for the Mocs.

Kris Kearney struggles for the ball.

Jerry Johnson floats to the basket for an easy two points.

Heavily guarded, Bill Buckley looks to pass the ball to a teammate.

Kim Billeter puts a shot up from outside.

Ready to shoot, Stacey Kreul shows good form.

In the face of her opponent, Kim Billeter looks for help.

Lana Barber and Stacey Kreul fight for a rebound.

Angie Marley approaches the basket with a lay-up for an easy two points.

Women's Basketball

The Lady Moccasin basketball team that took the court during the 1987-88 season was filled with many new faces. But determination and success is becoming synonymous with FSC women's basketball. Head Coach Norm Benn, undefeated in the Sunshine State Conference, completed his third season at FSC. Joining him on the staff this season was a new assistant coach, Megan Henry from Eastern Kentucky University.

Team captains, sophomore Kim Billeter and Junior Nanci Parks along with Angie Norman, also a junior, led a team loaded with seven newcomers which included Stacey Kreul and Carolyn Harmon.

The Lady Moccasins hope to improve on their 1987-88 season next year. Because they did not graduate any players this season, the Lady Moc goal should be achieved. During their campaign this season the Lady Mocs hosted teams from as far away as lowa, New Hampshire, and Texas, and competed against their perennial opponents in the Sunshine State Conference.

Lana Barber waits for a chance to go back up with a shot or pass the ball to a teammate.

Bobby Lefebre prepares to take a cut.

Ready and waiting for the pitch is Brian Arnold.

BASEBALL

A traditional powerhouse in the nation, the 1988 Moc baseball team was no exception with a strong and experienced squad which included pre-season All-American candidates Fernando Arguelles. Dino Ebel, Billy Kull and All-American Olympic Chris Allen.

Arugulles, Ebel and Kull were among seven other seniors including pitching ace Eddy Lamando. Pitchers James Hurst, Joe Logan, Bob Osinski and Jac Gelb were all underclassmen who would be more than enough to pick up the slack of the graduates.

Polls had the Mocs ranked #1 in the nation going into the season as they strove to improve on the 1987 record of 44-12. "It's a great feeling to be ranked #1," said catcher Arguelles. "It's a challenge to stay up there because every team wants a shot at you."

Once again, the Mocs did battle across the nation and even got a taste of what baseball is like in other countries as they took on the Taiwanese Nationals last fall, but lost both games to the Olympic-bound team. As every year, the Mosc played one of America's finest professional baseball teams, the Detroit Tigers. They also participated in the ninth annual Moc-Alumni game. The Mocs won, 12-0.

Dino Ebel digs in for a play at second.

Ed Lamando sets his sights.

Outfielder Chris Leach looks for his cut-off man.

Catcher Fernando Arguelles gets his point across.

Ball in hand, Billy Kull prepares to hit his relay man.

Wayne Tobey whips his arm back to get a strong release.

Chris Leach tries to beat the tag.

VOLLEYBALL

As of the fall of 1987, volleyball has been played at Florida Southern for twelve years. Lois Webb has been head coach for the past eleven years. In those eleven years, the Lady Mocs have been in four AIAW national tournaments, four NCAA national tournaments, and have been league champions four times. Since 1976, the team has also had three second team All-American players and one first team All-American player.

Leaving the Lady Mocs this year are seniors Christy Scott, Michelle Boculac, and Debbie Goodwin. Juniors playing the court this fall were Lisa Frisbie, Trish Gadberry, and Virginia Huck. They should provide a solid base that the Lady Mocs need to continue their winning tradition next year.

CROSS COUNTRY

Pushing their bodies to the limit and beyond is the daily job of the cross country team. This is the attitude that breeds winners and winning times. In this sport of head-to-head competition, the desire to win shines through more clearly than in some other sports.

Head Coach Ed Plowman was selected as the Sunshine State Conference Coach of the Year this fall. It came as he celebrated his 10th anniversary as coach of the Runnin' Mocs. Seniors Scott Rouse, first FSC men's runner to win the Sunshine State Conference meet, and Joe Tiseo, ran their last meets for FSC this fall while the women's team did not graduate anyone. In turn they gained a lot of experience from all the underclassmen runers, such as Michelle Musick, who will join men's runner Don Gillich and Coach Plowman in running the Boston Peace Marathon.

SOCCER

The Florida Southern Strikin' Mocs celebrated 30 years in existance this fall. Started in 1957, the Mocs have come a long way since the end of that first season when they finished 1-3 with two ties. Since then the Mocs have had three All-Sunshine State Conference players, 29 All-Florida Intercollegiate Conference players, three All-South players, 12 All-State players and four All-American players. The team also has three Florida Intercollegiate Conference titles and finished fourth in NCAA Southern Regionals in 1971.

The Mocs say good-bye to seniors Paul Findling, team captain, and Fred Hammond this year. However, Tim Moore, Tony Schriffert and Keith Spresser should be around next year to provide leadership and drive. Sam Snow returned for his seventh season this year as head coach.

TENNIS

The Lady Moc tennis team hosted some of the state's finest tennis players as they set their sights on the top of the Sunshine State Conference.

The team had four new players including two freshmen, one transfer student and an exchange student from England, second seeded Sophia Henk.

The sole senior was top seeded Kim Rogers. She and sophomore Jill Rickey combined to form the team's top doubles pair.

Head Coach Ed Jeffries led a young team into the 1988 season. Competition included teams in the Sunshine State Conference and a few teams from outside the conference. The Lady Mocs, ranked eleventh in the nation going into the season, graduated only one player this year. This was definitely an encouraging thought for a bright and successful future.

Giving her all, Jill Rickey practices her return.

SOFTBALL

The Laky Moc softball team came off an impressive 1987 campaign and swung into the 1988 season with six new starting fielders.

The Mocs ended the 1987 season ranked second in the nation behind Cal-State Northridge and graduated six starters. Fortunately, the Nocs retained senior pitcher Dori Stankewitz, a recipient of the GTE Academic All-American Award. She once again proved to be a strong asset to the team.

"It was definitely a rebuilding season, but the talented girls that filled in the holes will make the team strong again next year," said Stankewitz.

Besides Stankewitz, the Laky Mocs also had Rhonda Kaiser at second base and Katrina McCormick at first base.

The team played host to a variety of Division I and II teams from around the state and the nation. Head Coach Chris Bellotto's girls played teams from as far away as Connecticut, New York and Illinios in 1988 as they strove for success and another trip to the championship games.

GOLF

If ever a team was loaded with talent, it was the 1988 Moc golf team. After completing a subpar season last year, the team fought to regain their high position in Division II. With the talent on the team, the rise back to the top was only a matter of time.

In 1987 the Mocs took the Florida Intercollegiate Tournament with All-State golfers Todd Mudge and Dave McMillan, both sophomores. The team was also made up of first, second and third string All-Americans Ralph Howe, Kevin Hester and Scott Hawkins, respectively. Senior Darren Stanek rounded out the team that finished second in the state in 1987. This was also the team that Head Coach Charley Matlock relied on in 1988 to dominate collegiate links play.

"We're as good as we want to be," said Matlock, "Any team can beat the other on a given day. It depends on who has the will."

Not often the center of attention yet standing in front of hundreds of Moc fans, the FSC Cheerleaders rally fans to bring life to the phrase "home court advantage."

Junior co-captains Shannon White and Peggy Hollis led with their experience a very young and new squad. Executing a variety of cheering routines, the girls were aided by mascot Doc Moc for a less-than-serious side of cheering. The squad included sophomores Shelly Holloway and Nancy Hilton and freshmen Kathy Terry, Annemarie Obeck, Lorie Valentik, Ragine Labrousse, Shanon Smith and Tracey Herig. The girls were helped with their routines by former cheerleader Donna Riddle.

"The girls worked very hard and learned their routines really well. This year has been exciting," said White.
